Two Suffer Injuries in Two Crashes on County Highways

Two persons suffered injuries in two crashes on highways in Pickaway County yesterday, the sheriff's department reported today.

The first accident came at 3:40 p. m. on Route 104 about two miles north of Yellow Bud. The other was at 5:05 p. m. on Route 22 just west of the city limits.

In the first collision, John G. Asseff, 24, Charleston, W. Va., suffered shoulder and neck injuries. He was taken to Berger Hospital.

The other vehicle involved was driven by David D. Hidy, 20, Washington C.H. He was not injured.

DEPUTY William Pontious said the Hidy vehicle was attempting to pass a truck. He collided with Asseff's car which was coming from the opposite direction.

Deputy Pontious said the Hidy vehicle crashed into a left ditch to avoid a head-on collision. Both vehicles were heavily damaged, he added.

In the second accident, Maurice E. Cline, 35, Route 2, Frankfort, received a lip laceration. He was taken to Berger Hospital.

Georgia Ann Puffinbarger, 21, Williamsport, driver of the other vehicle, was not hurt.

Deputy Dixie Watters said Cline was stopped along the highway to pick up a rider. The other driver said she was unable to see the parked car due to bright sunlight.

Deputy Watters said both cars suffered extensive damage.

Pastors Told Kennedy Plans Speaking Softly to Russians

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new Kennedy Administration will adopt a "speak softly and carry a big stick" attitude, an editor-publisher predicted Tuesday night.

Charles A. Wells, editor and publisher of "Between the Lines," a national newsletter, told the Ohio Pastors Convention:

"We're always talking about how many Russian cities we can destroy with our rockets and bombs. . . I predict Kennedy will change this, and will combat Russian propaganda with genuine peace offerings.

"I predict that our new President will keep our military successes a secret, and will fill the Iron Curtain countries with offerings of peace."

Wells told the 2,000 pastors attending the convention that the Russians want war less than do Americans.

"They are edgy when it comes to war—remember, they lost 17 million people in World War II. We lost 375,000," he pointed out.

In another speech to the pastors Tuesday night, Bishop Gerald H. Kennedy, president of the Council of Bishops of the Methodist Church said the real issue in the struggle between the United States and Russia is the nature of man. He said:

"We are losing the conflict with Communism largely because we do not know what the real issue is."

Bishop Kennedy, youngest at 40 to be elected a bishop (1948), said the conflict will not be won on the economic or weapons battleground, but on the spiritual one.

Here he said he was frightened, because he had noted in a three-week trip through Russia in 1959 a contrast in the unity of destiny felt by the Russians and our own nationalistic tepidity.

"I was appalled," he sighed resignedly, "to see in Red Square a two-mile long line of people waiting to view the bodies of Lenin and Stalin."

He cited a student guide who had told Bishop Kennedy that "if I had you here long enough, I could convince you the future is ours."

This is an attitude that premeates all sections of the Russian society, outside the church, Bishop Kennedy said.

4 Persons Killed In Cincinnati Fire

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four persons died in a fire in a combination business and residence building on River Road in the western section of Cincinnati early this morning, police reported.

The dead were identified as: Mrs. Millie Sparks, 39; Linda Sparks, 12, her daughter; Mrs. Marilyn Smith, 21, and her 16-month-old son, William.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately, but firemen said they believed a gas explosion caused it.

A broken gas line fed the fire and firemen had trouble in bringing it under control.

The water turned into ice as the firemen fought the blaze in 3 below zero temperature and spread over the road. Traffic was rerouted.

Marilyn Freed Again

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Actress Marilyn Monroe won a Mexican divorce from Arthur Miller, playwright and novelist, at Juarez Tuesday. She is 34.

Airborne Television Expert To Speak to Corwin PTA

The possibilities of Airborne Television instruction in Circleville's schools will be presented at the Corwin School PTA meeting at 8 p. m. February 2.

Speaker for the evening will be Richard B. Hull, director of television and radio broadcasting for Ohio State University and stations WOSU and WOSU-TV. He is also professor of speech and a professor of education at Ohio State.

Hull has been in the field of educational television almost since its inception, having been director of radio and television broadcasting at WOI, the United States pioneer educational television station at Iowa State College in 1950.

He was the first executive director of the Joint Council on Educational Television in 1951 and has served on the Board of Directors of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters from 1953 to 1960. He attended the Paris UNESCO conference in 1952 and 1956 as United States TV representative.

The Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction calls for an airplane telecasting educational courses on video tape over a six-state area, which includes Ohio. The cost of the project, $7,000,000, will be borne by the Ford Foundation and private industry.

PLANS here call for use of High Street School as the local test station for airborne television instruction.

Demonstration telecasts will start in February of this year, with test patterns being broadcast to all receiving schools. The first full academic year of telecasting will

Showdown Near In Assembly on State's Budget

Finance Director Due At Joint Session To Discuss Money Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The battle of the tax stamps has started again, but for the moment at least the Ohio Legislature's attention is focused on tonight's Republican - Democratic showdown on the state budget.

Finance Director James H. Maloon appears tonight before a joint session of the Senate and House finance committees to discuss the double-barreled question:

Why did Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle submit an unbalanced budget bill to the Republican - controlled General Assembly—and does he have the right under the law to do so?

DiSalle submitted an appropriations bill a week ago calling for state spending in the next two years of about $74 million above anticipated revenue, but he made no suggestions as to possible new sources of tax money. Controlling Republicans probably will decide after tonight's session whether to sponsor the unbalanced budget or offer one of their own.

The Democrats have indicated Minority Leader James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, will introduce the governor's bill Thursday if the GOP Leadership fails to act.

There was one Republican sponsor to a bill introduced in the House which would abandon the use of sales tax stamps, a proposal DiSalle tried to push through a Democratic - dominated legislature two years ago and failed. The Republican sponsor is Rep. Fred Cassel of Carey.

Religious and charitable groups strongly opposed abandonment of the stamp-receipt plan two years ago largely because it automatically would end Ohio's unique stamp redemption system, a plan adopted more than 20 years ago to help enforcement of the tax by encouraging buyers to demand their stamps when making a purchase.

DiSalle won a partial victory in 1959 when he succeeded in getting the redemption rate cut from 3 per cent of the face value of the stamps to 2 per cent. He also succeeded in eliminating the issuance of stamps in connection with the sale of automobiles. Those moves now are being challenged in the courts.

The governor contends the stamp system is unnecessary and costly. He estimates its abandonment would save $11 million a year.

Kennan Tipped as Next Ambassador to Tito

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is reported planning to name George F. Kennan as ambassador to Yugoslavia. The 56-year-old diplomat and educator is a top expert on the Soviet Union. He is regarded as author of the Truman administration's containment policy against the Communists.

Kennan served as ambassador to the Soviet Union under former President Harry S. Truman until the Soviets said he was unacceptable to them.

Greenville Is Low with 18 Below

Every Corner of Ohio Sees Bottom Drop Out of Frosty Thermometers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sub-zero temperature readings came from every corner of Ohio today, and there is no immediate prospect of much relief from the bitter cold.

One weather reporting station at Greenville in Darke County listed a mercury reading of 18 below, and the official U. S. Weather Bureau survey at 7 a. m. had readings ranging from 13 below in Columbus, 11 below at Toledo and 3 below in Cincinnati.

Listings for other areas included 1 below at Chesapeake, 6 below at Marietta, 11 below at Zanesville, 10 below at Mansfield, 8 below in Akron, 5, below in Bellaire, eight below in Youngstown, 6 below in Chillicothe and 12 below in Findlay.

In Cleveland the temperature dropped to seven below to equal the low mark for this winter established there Dec. 23. Cleveland record low for a Jan. 25 is 15 below set in 1897.

The Weather Bureau said a mass of high pressure air centered over Illinois and Missouri this morning will dominate Ohio's weather today and tonight, and that low pressure forming over Colorado will bring light snow to Ohio Thursday.

Bitter cold temperatures are predicted again for tonight, but the weathermen say that some cloudiness is expected to hold them above today's early readings. High temperatures today and Thursday will range from 10 to 16 degrees.

In the extended five-day forecast, the weather experts predicted the cold to continue, averaging 10 to 15 degrees below normal. Some moderation is expected Saturday and Sunday. Occasional snow flurries or light snow near Lake Erie are forecast for the whole period, with light snow south and central on Thursday and again during the weekend.

Primary and secondary Ohio highways are generally partly snow-covered to slippery in spots in the northeast and southern parts of the state.

Secondary roads have the same conditions in the west and central portions. Balance of the state's roads, with exception of a few scattered slippery spots, are reported normal.

Cold wave warnings were in effect over most areas from the southern half of the Plains into Virginia and the Carolinas. Near-zero weather edged into Kentucky and northern Virginia. The freezing belt covered areas southward into the central Gulf. Southern (Continued on Page 2)

Kennedy News Parley Awaited

Nation To Sit In On Confab Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy tonight holds his first news conference since taking office. It will be a precedent-setting session on live television and radio.

The U. S. Information Agency will provide special worldwide coverage, broadcasting recordings of the conference to reach peak listening hours overseas.

The new President's question and answer meeting with newsmen will be carried nationwide on all major U. S. networks starting at 6 p. m. EST.

How long the conference lasts will be determined, the White House has said, in the traditional manner—by the senior wire service reporter when he decides it's time to end the session.

Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, said the networks have indicated they intend to broadcast the entire conference this first time, no matter how long it lasts.

In one major respect the formula at Kennedy news conferences will be the same as it has been since 1933 when President Franklin D. Roosevelt put the sessions on a wide open basis. There will be no questions barred and Kennedy won't know what they are until they are fired at him.

Kennedy will be setting precedent in these ways:

1. He is starting a policy of letting the TV and radio networks broadcast any or all of his news conferences on a live basis.

2. Kennedy is the first president to hold a formal news conference at night—and there will be more of them from time to time at evening hours. Generally, however, the conferences will be held during the day with the sessions alternating between morning and afternoon.

3. At Kennedy news conferences reporters will be permitted to quote the President directly and immediately.

2 Washington C.H. Kiddies Die in Fire

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP)—Two small children burned to death today when their rural home caught fire on the Cook-Yankee town Rd. just off the Three C Highway about 12 miles northeast of here.

The victims were Stephen Hobbs, 8, and Bobbie Hobbs, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hobbs.

The parents and two other children, Delores, 10, and Kenneth, 8, escaped from the building but were unable to save the two smaller children.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Somber Recital of Conditions Expected in Kennedy Address

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported today to be preparing a somber recital of world and domestic conditions in a State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress Monday.

Associates said the President feels Congress and the country should be given what he regards as a realistic appraisal of turbulent global conditions and a hesitating economy at home.

Democratic leaders with whom Kennedy discussed the message at a White House conference Tuesday said they expect him to cover the Congo, Laos and other world trouble spots and to discuss mounting unemployment at home.

They anticipate Kennedy will follow this up with a series of messages outlining specific legislative proposals and suggesting changes in the $80.9-billion budget former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Congress Jan. 16.

An economic message will deal broadly with business conditions and might suggest some tax changes. If it is not included in this, a separate message may recommend early action on a measure to add depressed areas of chronic unemployment. It was believed possible the President might link this with a request for funds to bolster unemployment compensation payments.

Without even waiting for Kennedy to lay down his proposals, congressional Republicans organized their Senate and House forces for a "battle of the budget." Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy.

Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget the former president submitted. He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its presiding officer.

Continuing Idle Pay Claims Show Decrease

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing claims for unemployment compensation in Ohio showed a decrease today for the first time in months.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation said the claims of those unemployed one week or more dropped from 221,788 in the week ended Jan. 14, to 215,869 in the week ended Jan. 21.

The number of claims of unemployed began to rise last fall. Last Oct. 8, for instance, the total was 105,185—and the figure has been rising steadily since.

Delay in Nuclear Test Talks Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported ready to seek a delay of a few weeks in the nuclear test talks now scheduled to resume in Geneva Feb. 7.

This was understood to have been discussed Tuesday at a White House meeting of President Kennedy, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and disarmament chief John J. McCloy.

The nuclear talks involve Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union. They were suspended Dec. 5.

Many top administration officials believe more time may be needed to review the issue before formulating the "serious and perceptive proposals" Kennedy has termed essential to easing East-West tension.

Cruise Liner Still Eludes Search Fleet

Portuguese Rebel Chief Warns All Ships To Avoid Any Contact

NEW YORK (AP)—The leader of Portuguese dissidents who seized the cruise liner Santa Maria radioed to the Columbia Broadcasting System today that the vessel would not be surrendered to either Portuguese or foreign ships.

"If we are followed by Portuguese or foreign ships we will not surrender, nor will we stop," said the message from Henrique Galvao.

"We place responsibility of attackers, whoever attacks, against the ship."

The latter assertion evidently meant that anyone seeking to interfere with the vessel would be held responsible for the deed.

Several American and British craft are pursuing the Santa Maria.

A U. S. Navy spokesman in Puerto Rico said American craft had orders to stop and search the liner only if they apprehend her on the high seas.

A Portuguese vessel has put to sea from Lisbon in an effort to intercept the Santa Maria, and parts of the Portuguese navy have been ordered on a standby basis.

In his message to CBS, Galvao also said passengers shortly would be put ashore at a neutral port.

The message seemed to indicate, also, that those who seized the vessel also might disembark, but this was not clear. This was the way CBS translated the Portuguese wording of the radio-gram:

"American passengers, as well as all the others, understand perfectly the legitimacy of our struggle for liberty by the most enthusiastic forces at my command."

"We will shortly find a neutral port where we will disembark with safety for them, for us and for our ship."

Meanwhile, U. S. Navy planes closed in on the reported position of the Santa Maria and Portuguese officials in Lisbon claimed the phantom liner had been located.

American confirmation of this was lacking, with Navy men saying they will not consider the Santa Maria located until it has been sighted and identified.

But the Portuguese seemed convinced that the vessel trailed by monitoring of its radio is the Santa Maria. Rear Adm. Sarmiento Rodrigues declared in Lisbon the liner "will be sighted within a few hours."

The Portuguese frigate Pedro Escobar put to sea and a standby order went out to all Portuguese naval commands in the West African colony of Angola, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Mozambique—all areas controlled from Lisbon.

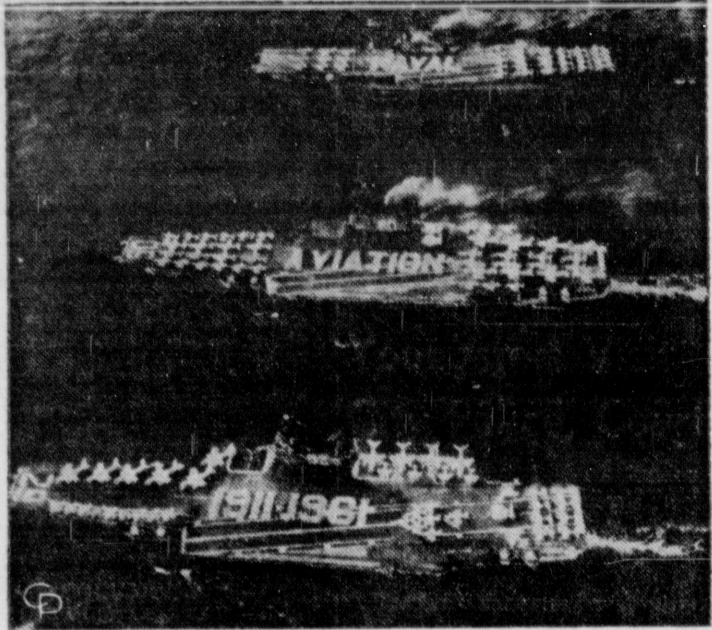

The 20,906-ton liner was seized Sunday by enemies of the Salazar regime in Portugal. At the time the vessel was between Venezuela and Florida, on a course to set some of its 600 passengers ashore at Port Everglades, Fla., Tuesday.

Four twin-engine Neptunes of the U. S. Navy circled over a 100-mile radius centered 400 miles due east of Guadeloupe, a French possession in the Leeward Islands. They were following a radio fix, a method by which monitoring stations compare notes to deter-

No immediate general relief from the season's longest and coldest weather appeared likely. However, some moderation was expected in the below - zero temperatures in some Midwest sections.

In International Falls, on the Minnesota-Canadian border, it was -25 this morning compared to -32 Tuesday.

Strong northerly winds swept the icy air into the south central and southeast sections during the night.

The mercury plunged to near zero in Plainview, Tex., on the south Plains, which was hit by a heavy snowstorm Tuesday. Sleet, rain, snow and freezing drizzle pelted many sections of Texas during the night.

Rain fell Tuesday night along the Gulf Coast and the Atlantic Coast from South Carolina to northern Florida. As the cold air moved in, the rain changed to freezing rain or sleet in the central and northern parts of the Gulf states. Glazing made driving conditions hazardous.

Snow fell in western Texas and central and southern New Mexico. A fast-moving snowstorm, powered by 60 m.p.h. winds, pounded Texas reaching blizzard proportions in the Plainview area.

A belt of freezing rain or sleet was forecast from central sections of Texas into Louisiana, southern Arkansas, southern and central parts of Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

The Weather Bureau in New Orleans said the freezing precipitation was expected to be light during the day but added there was a possibility of a major ice-snow storm over the Gulf Coast states during the next 48 hours.

Snow flurries continued to pepper sections of the Great Lakes, the central Rockies and the northern Plateau states.

Stock Mart Prices Show New Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .30 at 230.50 with industrials down 1.30, rails off .20, and utilities up .50.

The list seemed to be going through further consolidation following its week-to-week advance in 1961.

American Telephone touched another historic high of 111½ as it advanced more than a point in brisk dealings. International Business Machines, which soared 2½ points Tuesday on stock split news, dropped about 10 in profit taking.

Aircraft-missiles, autos, steels, rails, and nonferrous metals were mostly lower. Utilities and oils were up on balance. Tobacco, drugs, and building materials were mixed.

Some Wall Streeters pondered over possible news on disarmament, spending, and defense which might emanate from President Kennedy's first televised news conference. This bred hesitation in regard to the aircraft-missile group.

Ford (ex dividend) dropped more than a point. General Motors eased. U.S. Steel was a 1-point loser. DuPont dropped about 2 while Eastman Kodak picked up a point.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .65 at 638.14. Corporate bonds advanced. U.S. government bonds declined slightly.

Logan Elm Group Eyes School Meet

Early last summer every school district in Ohio was invited by the Ohio School Boards Assn. to participate in a Statehouse Conference on Education to be held in January 1961.

Participation involved naming a steering committee, which when organized was required to plan two or more public meetings. At these meetings, study guides prepared by the state committee were to be used as a basis for discussion. Following the discussion, participants were asked to fill in questionnaires which were tabulated and submitted to the Conference committee for use at the Conference.

In Logan Elm School District six meetings were held, questionnaires were completed and tabulated and now delegates named by participants in the district's meetings are ready to participate in the State House Conference to be held in Columbus at Veterans' Memorial on Thursday, January 26.

Logan Elm will have its full quota of five delegates and one educator. These will be Nelson Jones, David Bolender, Mrs. Walter Parker, Jr., Francis Fraunfelder, Mrs. Sterling Poling who has served as chairman for the district and Carl Burger, Logan Elm executive head.

Approximately 4,000 people are expected to attend the conference. These will be seated at discussion tables in groups of ten where they will discuss the same questions which have been the subject of local meetings. "What do we want from our schools?" and "How do we get what we want?"

OSU Official To Address Joint Meeting

Mervin G. Smith, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology at Ohio State University, will be guest speaker at the Pickaway County Farm Bureau and Pickaway County Cooperative Livestock Assn. 41st annual meeting Saturday.

MERVIN G. SMITH

The joint Cooperative and Farm Bureau session will be held at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum. Lunch will be served at 11:30 a. m. and the business meeting will start at 1 p. m.

Smith's talk will deal with pertinent problems facing farmers today. Much of the address will cover farm prices and what to expect in the future.

The OSU department head also will talk on farm production in relationship to consumption. Other points will deal with management and important decisions which will determine how well farmers get along in the future.

ON the lunch menu will be beef barbecue, baked beans, potato chips, pickles and coffee and milk. Farm Bureau members, Cooperative Livestock buyers and guests will attend the annual event.

Epley Trial Begins Today

Pickaway County Common Pleas Court today opened trial for Charles E. Epley, 27, Route 3, charged with felonious assault on a minor.

Epley was indicted here by the September session of the Grand Jury. He was apprehended April 13, 1960, by Circleville Police on accusations of taking improper and indecent liberties with an 11-year-old girl in a restroom at the High St. Elementary School.

The hearing began at 9:30 a. m. and recessed at about 9:45 a. m. in order for the court to view the scene of the alleged crime, High Street School. Court recessed at 11:45 for lunch, and was to resume again at 1 p. m.

Epley waived his rights of trial by jury. Under these conditions the law requires the case to be heard by three judges. They are William Ammer, presiding judge; Harley Meyer, Hocking County; and Darrel Hottle, Highland County.

Harry Margulis, Ashville, is the attorney for the defense. Robert Huffer, county prosecuting attorney, represents the State of Ohio.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Prescription Costs
• Ovulation Suppression
• Writer's Cramp
• Strong Minds
• Douching

Q. Why do most prescriptions cost $10 or more?
A. They don't. A recent study shows that the average price to the patient of a prescription in the U. S. is about $3. Over 60 per cent of all prescriptions were $3 and under. Only about one in 100 prescriptions cost as much as $10.

Q. Does the new contraceptive pill prevent or delay ovulation?
A. If taken for 20 days during the menstrual cycle, the oral hormone preparation which was approved as a contraceptive by the Food and Drug Administration in May of last year, prevents the escape of the ovum or the egg from the ovary. Suppression of ovulation can be accomplished month after month, apparently without harm to the ovary. When the user stops taking the drug, ovulation occurs each month in a normal manner.

Q. What causes writer's cramp?
It is your right and privilege to have your prescription filled at a pharmacy of your choice. Choose wisely on the basis of professional competency and price fairness.

Cruise Liner

Portugal's navy gave approximately the same position. They said the Santa Maria was located 550 miles east of the Windward Islands, southern neighbors of the Leewards.

The Santa Maria, with Henrique Malta Galvao's hijackers in command, paused Monday off St. Lucia, one of the Windwards, and sent ashore eight crewmen, including one wounded severely by gunshot in the battle for the ship.

Messages from the Santa Maria this morning, handled in an exchange with an RCA station at Chatham, Mass., were "All well—don't worry!" assurances from passengers to their homefolks.

A Navy spokesman at San Juan headquarters directing the search for the Portuguese liner said a radio fix had been obtained on a ship 500 miles southeast of Barbados that "might be the Santa Maria."

A check of that area proved fruitless.

At dawn the hunt moved north. The Neptunes, long-range reconnaissance planes, were under instructions to determine the position, course and speed of the ship.

British radio monitors expressed belief the Santa Maria was on a course toward Angola. This is about 5,000 miles across the Atlantic from the West Indies.

U.S. and Dutch planes and American and British surface craft took part in the search for the liner—seized on the high seas with the avowed aim of starting ouster of Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, Portugal's ruler for 33 years.

Young GOP Club Holds First Meet

Pickaway County Young Republican Club held its first meeting of the year in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court room yesterday.

Marshall Douthett, outgoing president, presided during the business meeting.

Election of officers was held with Don Vogel named president; James Wilson, vice - president and Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, recording secretary.

Miss Martha Blue, corresponding secretary; William Ebe, treasurer; James Irvin, parliamentarian; Douthett, Mal Lawrence and Leroy Slusser, trustees.

PLANS were discussed for a club newsletter which will consist of the club's activities and functions.

It was decided to sponsor a course in practical politics. The course will consist of eight consecutive meetings for two hours each week. Persons interested may contact James Wilson.

The next session will be March 7. Members are asked to get new membership cards.

Persons between the ages of 18-40 are eligible to join the club.

Portuguese Rebel Lauds Democracy of U.S., Canada

LISBON (AP)—Gen. Humberto Delgado, the man behind the seizure of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria, says he soured on Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's regime because he learned about democracy in Canada and the United States.

For 30 years he was an ardent supporter of Salazar. For 10 years he served the regime in Canada and in Washington, finally as Portugal's representative to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization military group in Washington.

"I learned what democracy meant there," he told foreign newsmen in 1958, when he ran unsuccessfully for the presidency against Salazar's candidate. Delgado polled a surprisingly high 25 per cent of the votes and claimed the election was stolen from him.

Salazar dismissed him from his post as chief of civil aviation. He claimed political asylum in the Brazilian Embassy Jan. 13, 1959, saying he was in danger of being arrested. Two months later he went to Brazil.

The general, 54, heavy-set and balding, comes from modest stock. His father was a professional noncommissioned soldier and the boy was brought up in military schools. He was a good student but showed a stormy personality from the start.

He was always interested in politics and threw in at the start with the military dictatorship of 1926 which led to the Salazar regime.

Then he switched to the air force and was trained in France. Like Capt. Henrique Malta Galvao, who led the band that seized the Santa Maria, Delgado was considered in Lisbon to be a protégé of Salazar.

Delgado rose to become the highest ranking officer of the Portuguese air force and was sent on many important military missions. He was the principal negotiator for his government in the granting of bases in the Azores to Britain and the United States during World War II.

On returning from Washington to resume his post as director of civil aviation, he broke with Salazar and announced his candidacy in the 1958 presidential elections.

He returned to Europe from Brazil last November for a speech-making tour against the Salazar regime. His trip was curtailed after a number of European governments refused to permit him to speak and he returned to Brazil.

$44 Million OK'd For Cleveland Slums

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration announced today Cleveland, Ohio, will begin work on its 96 - acre Erieview No. 1 slum clearance project with the aid of a $33,875,784 federal loan and a $10,703,784 grant.

The area, located in the city's central business district, contains 123 dwelling units of which 112 are substandard. The land, after clearance, will be reused for commercial and residential purposes.

URA said the estimated net cost of the project is $15,455,831. This represents the difference between the cost of acquiring, clearing and preparing the land for its new uses and the return from its resale at fair value.

World Wheat Harvest Down

A world survey by the United States Department of Agriculture indicates declines in wheat prospects virtually everywhere except in the U. S.

This year's outlook for Britain and the continent of Europe is not favorable. The 1960 crop was down 105 million bushels from the record 1959 harvest and further shrinkage is expected. Argentina's crop is down 30 per cent. Australia's estimates alone are above last year. Canadian prospects are not yet clear.

While this was happening, the United States binned 20 per cent more wheat last year than in 1959. And forecasts for the 1961 winter crop are running at another record high. U. S. wheat carryover next July 1 will exceed 1.5 billion bushels.

It is possible that one reason for decline in other traditional wheat producing areas is that the United States has this tremendous spurge of production and mountainous carryover. Washington is pushing aggressively in world markets to dispose of the surplus at cut prices — often as gifts.

This may be forcing producers in other nations to turn to crops that can be marketed in world trade without such terrific competition.

This has created some bitterness toward the U. S. in wheat exporting countries. American taxpayers aren't happy with the load they bear supporting overproduction of wheat and other crops. And workable farm solutions continue as elusive as ever.

Foolproof Plan for Pirate

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Every red-blooded American boy at one time dreams of being a big bold pirate. So, in our opinion, does every red-blooded middle-aged American man.

The seizure in the Caribbean this week of the Portuguese luxury liner Santa Maria by 70 passengers inimical to Portuguese Premier Salazar startled the world.

It held special interest to students of pirate lore because it took place in the same waters once scoured by Blackbeard, perhaps the most villainous freebooter of them all.

But, on closer examination of this rebellion at sea, we must admit to a feeling of personal let-down. After all, it was a political act, done by a group for a political purpose.

It holds none of the high adventure promised by our own fondest daydream — which is to hold up the giant Cunard liner Queen Mary single-handed with a carved wooden gun. (We insist on a wooden gun as the sight of blood makes us faint, particularly if it is our own.)

Over the years we've met dozens of other people who yearned to rob the Queen Mary, but most of them are lazy.

They haven't taken the trouble to think up a foolproof plan. We have. Here it is:

We board the great liner as a passenger and when it reaches a certain point at sea we surprise the captain in his cabin with our trusty little wooden gun and hold him hostage.

Then we have the captain summon all his officers to the cabin and lock them in. Next, we ax all the radio equipment so no alarm can be spread.

It is now time to rifle the ship's strong box, and we figure it ought to hold three—maybe five—million bucks.

Later, we are lowered into a launch, holding the captain as hostage, and speed to the horizon

Practical Man's Opinion Needed

By George Sokolsky

Every day I get a letter from some person who lives in 1930 or thereabouts and refuses to face the very simple and unpleasant fact of 1961. Such persons remind me of those brilliant minds in Wall Street in 1929 who, believing that the sky is the limit, committed suicide when the sky fell down on them.

The first problem that President Kennedy and this nation face is the dollar and our loss of gold. This is more important than any other question because as our dollar loses in value, everything we do or try to do goes awry.

For instance, the cost of defense rises as the value of the dollar goes down and the cost of keeping troops and bases goes up beyond our capacity to find the fund, particularly if our so-called allies continue to build their gold reserves at our expense. Only the British have recognized the seriousness of this problem and have come through it with devotion and purpose. Italy, West Germany and Japan have been pounding our gold reserve greedily. It is questionable as to whether they have done well ultimately redound to their benefit.

The Kennedy Administration faces the dollar as the most urgent problem, although it is understandable that Congress will not consider it so because Americans have had no experience with a devalued currency since the War between the States and therefore cannot get away from the simplicity that a dollar is 100 cents, 20 nickels or 10 dimes. But even on that formula, what is a nickel worth?

In this respect the Kennedy Administration starts where the Hoover Administration started. Hoover took office on March 4, 1929; the stock market collapse occurred in October, 1929. Actually, such a debacle took a long time in the making. The world-wide financial difficulties of that era were first apparent in 1921 and the first country to be hit was Japan. The chain of economic disturbances moved from country to country with dramatic impetus and finally hit the United States. The London Economic Conference was called in 1933 to deal with the question of money and gold and to set, if possible, a universal price for gold. Roosevelt and Henry Morgenthau, Jr., torpedeered the Conference and that was the end of economic sanity for Europe.

Today, President Kennedy is faced by a similar situation. He walked in on an inflation, which is sharp and moving rapidly. His Secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon, must stick his finger in the dike to keep our gold from continuing to flow out of the country. He will have to take unpleasant measures to keep our gold reserves sufficient to cover our dollar, to keep the value of our dollar up in the world, and to keep our people at work so that the social and financial problems of unemployment do not complicate the American economy at the beginning of a new Administration.

Many who regard themselves as conservatives do not recognize the seriousness of this particular problem. They keep harping on issues which are not urgent and ignore the frightening possibility that the capitalist system could collapse in this country with the collapse of the dollar. One listens to all sorts of panaceas from devaluation to taking the gold reserve off dollars, but none of the proposed suggestions mean anything of significance. The Treasury must find a solution to the problem of the seeping gold and debasing dollar within the framework of the American economy without increasing unemployment.

This is no child's game. It takes absolute expert knowledge and enormous imagination. There are in the United States, men whose business is gold, who watch every fluctuation in price, in quantity, in the movement of gold, who can tell instantly where every pound of gold is situated, who watch every operation in this field.

Douglas Dillon knows where these men are, who they are, what they do. Because of his experience, he undoubtedly knows the British, Dutch and South African operators as well as the Americans. To my knowledge, at least one of the largest American gold operators and an expert in the field is a friend and neighbor of his in New Jersey. It is such practical men who ought to be called in to consider a solution of this problem — and immediately.

Bakery Union Chief Offers To Quit If Prosecution Ends

WASHINGTON (AP)—James G. Cross has quit as president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union—provided a pending corruption case against him is dropped and he is given a reported $250,000.

The union's general executive board announced it had agreed to terms with Cross after sending a deputation to negotiate with him at his Palm Beach, Fla., home.

The board said "complete details of the settlement agreement must await court approval" but they include dismissal of pending litigation brought by some union subordinates alleging that Cross has "systematically plundered" the union's treasury.

It was reliably reported the board has agreed to give Cross over $250,000 cash to liquidate his pension rights, and that there are other considerations.

For example, earlier drafts of proposed settlement agreements were said to have specified that in the event Cross is faced with new legal proceedings growing out of his eight-year union presidency the union would pay for his defense counsel and all other costs.

The suit pending in federal court here charges, among other things, that over $100,000 in union funds already has been used to pay various legal costs in defending Cross, and that union money was "led to buy and maintain Florida home."

It also was charged that various personal expenses for Cross and his wife, including food, automobiles and entertainment, were paid by the union.

Cross has made his resignation conditional upon the litigation's being dismissed. It will be up to the court to decide whether this can be done. A private auditing firm reportedly has been investigating the union's finances at court direction.

Cross' union was expelled several years ago from the AFL-CIO on grounds it was corruptly dominated. The AFL-CIO established a rival union—called the American Bakery & Confectionery Workers—which has taken over approximately 80,000 of the original union's 140,000 members.

The union is reported to have lost about $4 million in assets in the past few years. Its principal asset, the Solar Building, a modern office building in downtown Washington, recently was reported re-financed to give the union more cash but at higher mortgage terms.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Two acute problems face the new administration—rising unemployment and falling gold reserves. What is done about one could affect the other.

And the whole public may get a clue as to what President Kennedy proposes to do when his first news conference is carried tonight on TV and radio and printed at length for all to study in Thursday's newspapers.

The problems are linked in two ways:

1. Rising unemployment is due to a large extent, although not altogether, to a continuing slackness in business. One traditional way for government to tackle that problem is to force interest rates down and make business borrowing easier.

But this time, if it does, the government runs the risk of increasing the flow of investment capital to other lands where returns are higher. And that in turn will make it just that much easier for foreigners to pile up dollars they can turn in for more of our treasury's gold.

2. The loss of gold affects the world confidence in the dollar and disturbs planning at home. The loss of gold with the possibility it could lead to remedies that would mean more inflation and rising production costs also, along with other reasons, encourages U. S. companies to invest in overseas plants to make goods there rather than to hire workers here to produce them. And this has its effect, however small comparatively, on the total of unemployment.

World trade conditions, whether competitive imports, or brakes on our exports, or financial conditions such as the loss of gold typifies, all have effects on domestic business.

The jobless problem, however, is too obviously cluttering up the economy now to be swept under the rug.

President Kennedy has been given some new estimates by Labor Secretary Goldberg. Current unemployment is put at 5½ million, up 1 million in a month. The number actually receiving jobless payments is approaching the record of 3,331,600 set in April 1958. Bad weather and other seasonal factors make it likely that the record will be reached or topped before spring. Many out of work persons aren't eligible for such benefits and many have exhausted the limit such payments are made.

Much of the blame for rising unemployment is put on poor business in auto, appliance, machinery and other manufacturing and metal industries.

But there are other causes. The usual seasonal ones, for example: Weather hampers construction and other outdoor work.

A hand - to - mouth inventory policy—that is, not ordering anything until the factory or store has used up stocks on hand — has caused cutbacks at supplier levels such as metal production and processing.

General business uncertainty—running all the way from stock market nervousness to planning for spending on new plant and equipment—has taken a toll. Also, along this line was uncertainty as to what changes would come with a new federal administration.

Labor chiefs point a finger at automation as a cause for unemployment. They say machines are taking over jobs that men once had.

Conservatives say all these will change—in time. The weather will get better, inventories will give out and have to be replenished, automation creates its own skills and builds new markets, business slackness may be reversed. All this in due course and without government interference.

But the administration is unlikely to want to wait. We should know soon what it proposes to do about current pressing problems.

U.S. Steel Plans

Another SUB Cut

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U. S. Steel Corp. said Tuesday it will cut supplemental unemployment benefits another 7½ per cent Feb. 1, making a total reduction of 40 per cent.

The nation's largest steel producer slashed SUB payments to furloughed steelworkers by 32½ per cent last month.

Contracts between steel producers and the United Steel workers provide for reductions when SUB funds fall to a certain level.

Supplemental unemployment benefits are designed to combine with state unemployment compensation to give a laid-off steelworker about 65 per cent of his normal take-home pay for his year.

Western Fame

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) —University of Arizona Prof. Jean R. Beck returned from a trip to Ravensburg, Germany, and reported the municipal band had a number called "The Arizona March."

Dr. Beck asked how the Germans had selected such a title. The bandmaster answered:

"We're quite familiar with Arizona. That's where many of those western movies are filmed."

Ashville Girl's Essay Is Winner

Miss Dorothy Dickinson, senior student at Ashville High School took second place Sunday in the state "Prince of Peace Essay Contest", held at Veteran's Memorial in Columbus. The contest is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches.

As recipient of the award she will get a four-day all expense paid tour of the United Nations Building in New York City, $75 in cash and granted a two-year college scholarship.

Miss Dickinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dickinson, is a top student in her class, is president of the Future Teacher Assn., co-editor of the class annual, and at the present is working very hard on the music department's production of "South Pacific".

The winning essay entitled "Lasting Peace by Knowledge" reads as follows:

"PEACE IS the greatest desire of mankind, for without peace there is no prosperity, security, or opportunity for progress.

"Since the beginning of man's existence on this planet, he has lived by conquest; first, conquest over beasts for food and protection, second, by conquest of the land for food and security against the elements, and later by conquest against other men to acquire more food and security.

"Later in man's history he went forth in conquest at another's bidding, the bidding itself a form of personal conquest by the leader. In doing this man believed that he was performing a mission that would benefit himself and his countrymen. The leader held up before his followers the wealth of others. (to cause envy), the story of their neighbor's threats (to cause fear and hate), and the differences of color and religion (to create a feeling that the conquest was justified).

"In this way the leader proved that those who were to kill or maim would become a menace to all if they were allowed to thrive. Therefore, peace to an individual has come to mean peace to the group of people of which he is a part.

"Problems of peace have occupied each moment of man's existence. The first beast harnessed by primitive man enabled him to proceed a little farther afield in harassing his neighbor than was possible before. Ships came to span the seas, and later planes and rockets placed any point on earth within a few hours' reach.

"Therefore, as man's ability to travel has progressed, war has evolved from when personal difference were settled individually, until today when peace or war depends on any nation's relations with the rest of the world.

"Peace to an individual has come to mean peace to the nation in which he lives. The peace of subjugation, the uneasy peace of cold war, or the peace of an interval between hot wars is far from the goal the world strives to attain.

"National peace or war is the result of the desires of the majority of the people in the country involved.

"WAR IS always a gamble, not only to a nation but also to each individual. When a nation loses a war it loses the national identity, but even though his country may be the victor in the conflict, the individual may lose his life and is certain to lose a portion of his personal resources in the national war effort.

Peace by law or peace by powerful weapons is not the answer to world peace. War makes its own laws as necessity arise, but humanity has not found peace in a long list of progressively destructive weapons ranging from thrown rocks to atom bombs.

The hungry man thinks of war for food, the fed man thinks of war to obtain luxury, and the man who has acquired both food and luxury thinks of war to obtain power. Consequently, man, as he is taught to provide for his physical needs, must also be taught faith, love, and compassion.

To obtain lasting peace, the individuals of the world must be able to pause, clothed and fed largely by their own initiative, and have the ability to realize that, even though they must render to their respective Caesars the things due him, it is not well for them to give their Caesars those things a good leader would not demand for his own benefit, such as, lives, money and allegiance.

"It will necessitate the combined efforts of all the nations to teach the people of the earth how to provide life's necessities for themselves. They must be taught to earn these things by their own hands. No man places a high value on those things for which he has not paid a price in effort.

"Giving him food, clothing, and shelter will provide him with no lasting desire for peace, for his surplus time and energy will beget envy and greed. He must be taught to provide for himself!

"If the people of the world are educated sufficiently to provide for themselves, conscientiously instilled with knowledge that creates the desire for peaceful coexistence and brotherly love, and taught to think for themselves, they will not be easily led by some pompous leader who dangles wealth before their eyes in exchange for the conquest of others.

"Only through education and the ability to think for themselves, can people attain any stability and not be swayed by the promises of wealth or the incitement of envy, fear, or hate that leads them to do the bidding of their Caesar. Instead the people will be able to determine the difference between their Leader's lust for power and their own welfare.

"IN AN effort to obtain world peace, we must make our goal one of lasting peace. The goal of lasting peace is often confused with the problems presented by some real or fancied menace to the peace of the day. These conflicts of ideals or struggles for power may, and often do, lead to a war.

"The easing of tensions between powers or nations, while desirable, does not in itself contribute to a lasting peace. Only the prevention of the desire for war among the people of the world will bring about any degree of lasting peaceful relationship. Desire for war can be stopped by the education of the people of all countries.

"A program for the education of nations must be executed by the combined efforts of all the countries of the world. However, before people can be taught to think and reason for themselves, they must have the necessities of life.

"No hungry man nor one who is exhausted from seeking a meager existence from the land is able or willing to give much time or thought to anything except his own physical welfare. He must first be adequately fed, clothed, sheltered, and have a few leisure hours to devote to his own betterment.

"Peace is a problem of the population of the earth. A program for the education of the people of the earth, with the goal of lasting peace, will call for the accumulated knowledge of all humanity, regardless of race or creed.

"This will not be realized in a short period of time. However, with the peace loving people of the world working diligently together toward a common goal, they themselves will find it necessary to forego belligerent nationalism or idealistic ideas and thereby, further their own understanding and knowledge.

"The will to work for lasting peace must spring from the hearts of those who desire it. They must be willing to plan for and finance the cost of sending emissaries, accompanied by such tools or other equipment as necessary, to the parts of the world where their particular type of knowledge is needed; the weaver to the people who need cloth, the lumberman to the country that has timber but no houses, and to the people who have the necessities of life but wish more for their children, a college professor.

"This program should be so well financed that it would cause men and women highly skilled in their trades to want to add to their already possessed abilities, dedication of purpose in foreign lands. However, this dedication must not be to their own personal financial disadvantage.

"These emissaries must be people who have, in addition to their skill, embedded deep in their hearts the principle of Christ's teaching, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself'.

Ike Reported As Now Having Time of Life

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A relaxed and buoyantly happy Dwight D. Eisenhower is having the time of his life today, forgetting the cares and problems of eight years in the presidency.

After nine hours in the hunting fields of the sprawling Blue Springs plantation Tuesday, the former president said: "Oh, it was just lovely."

He wasn't entirely satisfied with his performance — "I was shooting a little bit too low for a while"—but he came back with a full bag of quail.

Guest of honor at an elaborate two-hour picnic lunch under the trees deep within the isolated 15,000-acre plantation, he circulated among the 55 guests, laughing, joking and talking on topics ranging from Khrushchev to quail hash.

A longtime friend, George B. Allen, said, "I have never seen him as completely relaxed."

"Neither have I," agreed William E. Robinson, another old friend.

Allen, a Gettysburg, Pa., neighbor, accompanied Eisenhower here for a week's hunting on the plantation owned by W. Alton Jones. Robinson is a Coca Cola Co. executive.

At the luncheon—including charcoal broiled quail — the former president turned serious for a moment in discussing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's seeming willingness to better U.S. Soviet relations.

He said before any American could place any faith in any Soviet peace overture, Khrushchev would have to back up his words with deeds.

Ironton Jury Rules 'Guilty' in Slaying

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—William Lloyd Sparkman, 34, of South Point has been convicted of second-degree murder in the slaying of Walter Moore last June 27. Sparkman, originally charged with first-degree murder, was convicted Tuesday after a Common Pleas Court jury deliberated eight hours. He faces a life sentence.

The shooting occurred in the office of an Ironton trucking terminal. It reportedly was the climax of an argument between Sparkman, a trucker, and Moore over a loading assignment. Moore, 35, of Coal Grove, was a dispatcher.

"No hungry man nor one who is exhausted from seeking a meager existence from the land is able or willing to give much time or thought to anything except his own physical welfare. He must first be adequately fed, clothed, sheltered, and have a few leisure hours to devote to his own betterment.

Protestants Plan Rites at Midweek

CLEVELAND (AP) — Midweek services for Protestants who work on Sundays and cannot attend church that day have been set up in Cleveland.

Sunday services will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at several churches throughout the city.

The project is a venture of the West Park Ministerial Association. Participating will be twenty pastors, representing 14 congregations. The clergymen will take turns conducting the midweek services and preaching.

Dr. J. H. L. Trout, pastor emeritus of Bethany English Lutheran Church and chairman of the committee in charge, explained that Protestant pastors for years have wrestled with the problem of church attendance by members compelled to work Sundays. Catholic workers employed on Sunday may go to an early mass before going to work and also have the opportunity to worship on any day of the week, he said.

Clergymen have pointed out there is nothing scriptural or essential about scheduling church services on Sunday mornings.

The practice arose, they note, in rural America a century ago, when farmers had to drive miles to their church and remained there most of the day.

Cincy Grocery Bandit Nabbed By Officers

CINCINNATI (AP) — The gunman who police said earlier subjected a woman grocery operator to moments of horror also held a patrolman hostage Tuesday night.

Police surrounded the home of James Jefferson Fox, 25, near midnight and said he surrendered meekly.

Patrolman William Wilson, 46, said he had spotted Fox looking suspicious in a cafe and took him to a cruiser, planning a trip to his station to question Fox.

Wilson said Fox suddenly leaped toward him, put a pistol at his temple and at the same time snatched the policeman's service revolver.

Fox fired it into the floor of the cafe "to see if it works," Wilson said, then forced him to drive about 14 blocks to a point where Fox alighted and walked away.

Police, acting on a tip gathered outside Fox's home.

No charges were filed immediately.

Fox was identified as the man who earlier took bills and silver from Mrs. Margaret Van Fleet in her grocery store, then seized her and dragged her across the store floor on her knees.

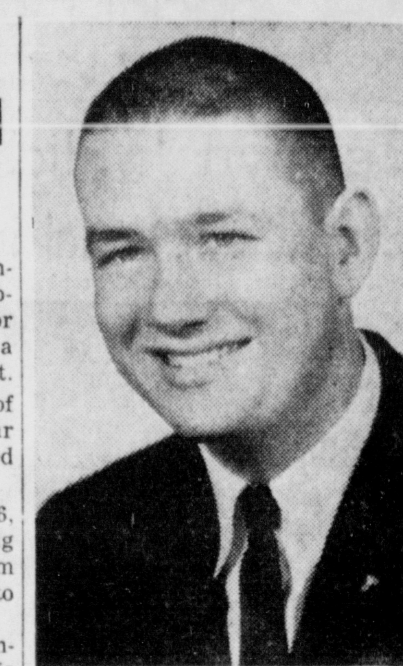

Police said he barged through the door with the woman and dragged her hastily down two outside steps, losing his hat and some of the silver loot.

Columbus Man Sought For $9,900 Robbery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police and FBI agents are searching for 22-year-old Richard Crayton. The Columbus man is wanted for questioning in the $9,900 robbery Monday of the State Savings Co.

Police said they traced a car a well-groomed gunman used to Crayton's mother. The gunman held employees at bay with a .22 caliber revolver during the robbery.

The population of Ethiopia is 22 million.

Sandra Callihan Is Bride Of Mr. Charles Harrison

Two - seven branch candelabra, baskets of pale pink and white gladioli with palms enhanced the altar before the marriage of Miss Sandra Sue Callihan and Mr. Charles Austin Harrison.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the First EUB Church by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs at half-past seven o'clock Friday, January 6.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Callihan, 108 Park View Ave. Mr. Harrison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Harrison, Stoutsville.

Mrs. Charles Dinkler presented the pre-nuptial music at the organ. The bride was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father.

She chose for her wedding, a white satin - brocade street length gown. The gown featured long sleeves, covered buttons, rounded neckline and a straight panel in front and gathers forming a bustled effect on either side and back.

Her shoulder length veil was attached to a band of pearlized berries and leaves. Pearl earrings and necklace, gift of the groom, were her only accessories.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, fern and net.

Miss Linda Sue Gibbs served as maid of honor. She was attired in a rose pink dress. Her dress, which was fashioned with a velvet bodice and chiffon skirt, featured a rounded neckline and cap sleeves.

The bridesmaid was Miss Elizabeth Tomlinson. Her gown was identical to that of Miss Gibbs. Both carried colonial bouquets of pale pink and white carnations.

Gary Lovett served as Mr. Harrison's best man. Ushers were James E. Callihan, Roger Pemberton and Maynard Burns.

Mrs. Callihan chose for her daughter's wedding, a black long sleeved sheath dress with white accessories.

Mrs. Harrison was attired in a rose knit suit with black accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages.

A reception followed in the church social center. The punch bowl was surrounded on either side with pale pink and white carnations and fern. A three - tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bride and groom was decorated with pale pink rose buds.

Hostesses were Mrs. Maynard Burns and Mrs. Pete Leist.

For their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Harrison was attired in a loden green wool sheath dress with black accessories. The corsage from her wedding bouquet was pinned to her dress.

Mrs. Harrison is a graduate of Circleville High School. She is secretary to the Circleville High School Principal.

Mr. Harrison was graduated by Stoutsville High School. He is employed at the Lincoln Molded Plastics.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Chillicothe, Columbus, Ashland, Stoutsville, Grove City, Washington C. H. and Michigan.

Cabinet Wives: Proud Women

Ermalee Udall Likes Capital, Is Busy with Six Children

Ermalee Udall, the slim, vivacious wife of former U.S. Rep. Stewart Lee Udall, new Secretary of the Interior, is looking forward to a return to Washington.

"Actually I don't think the new post will change our lives as much as it might seem," she says. "Having already spent several years in the Congressional circle, we're acquainted with a great many people and we're familiar with the procedures and protocol."

"The biggest difference will come, I think, in the added responsibilities to accept social invitations. Charity functions and first night events which require the appearance of cabinet members and their wives will be new for us. But I'm looking forward to it and think it'll be fun and exciting."

The cabinet appointment also will mean an uninterrupted school year for the Udall children who, because of the seven to eight month duration of Congressional sessions, have gone to school each year both in McLean, Va., and Tucson, Ariz. The Udalls have six youngsters — Tommy, 12, Scott, 11, Lynn, 10, Lori, 8, Dennis, 4, and Jamie, 1 1/2.

The 38-year-old Mrs. Udall was born in Mesa, Ariz., and met her husband-to-be at the University of Arizona. They were married six months later.

Udall, first cabinet appointee in history from Arizona, and his wife both are members of pioneer Arizona families and both are Mormon.

Mrs. Udall had planned to finish college after her marriage but the arrival of Tommy prevented that. She has been attending night school at the American University in Washington D.C. and may resume her studies there for a degree.

Her children also have out an end to a one-time interest in ceramics. "The children's hobbies are my hobbies now," Mrs. Udall says. "When they change, I change."

Dear Abby...

Case of the Grinning Teeth!

DEAR ABBY: I decided to write to you after reading that letter from the woman who said her husband ate like a pig. I can top her! My husband has false teeth—uppers and lowers. Now I know that can't be helped, and he wouldn't be caught dead outside without his teeth. Even when he washes the car his teeth are in, but the minute he gets in the house with me, out they come!

He sets them any place—on the table, on the sewing machine. It seems wherever I go his teeth are grinning at me until I could scream. At mealtime he gums his food until I can't stand it. Talk gets me nowhere. He says it's his home and he is king, teeth or no teeth.

FED UP
DEAR FED: Your husband's dentures probably fit poorly or he wouldn't be removing them every chance he gets. In fact, that he goes back to the dentist who made them. A minor adjustment could make a major improvement in your life—and in his.

DEAR ABBY: My dad is a salesman. His customers sometimes call him at home to give him orders. Don't you think there should be a special time for these people to call him so the rest of the family can use the phone without getting their heads blown off?

The minute one of us gets on the telephone my father starts to yell, "Get off the phone! Someone might be trying to call me!"

This has been the top argument in our house for a long time. Can you offer any solutions?

SALESMAN'S DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Your father should have a private telephone for his business calls. If the family agrees to conserve on other things, he can afford it. Where the happiness of an entire family is involved, he can't afford not to.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to be married soon. My fiancé was married before (about five years ago) and all his friends and relatives sent him wedding gifts for that occasion. He was divorced and his exwife took all their wedding presents with her.

We would like to send wedding invitations to his friends and relatives because we truly want them to attend our wedding. But we want them to know that we do not expect them to send another present. Can we write on the invitations, "No presents, please"?

CONFUSED
DEAR CONFUSED: It is improper to write a message of any sort on a wedding invitation. If they want to lend their "presence," they'll be glad to send their "presents."

CONFIDENTIAL TO MURIEL AND FAYE: Try Alaska. The men are plentiful and the nights are long.

For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Brown a little chopped onion and green pepper in fat in a skillet; add drained canned red kidney beans and heat, mashing the beans a little.

Castro Support Dips in Venezuela

Editor's note—AP News analyst William L. Ryan is on a swing through Latin America to report on the effects of Castroism and communism at this critical time when a new U.S. administration is evolving its policies. This is another dispatch from Venezuela. Other reports by Ryan will appear in this newspaper from time to time in the next few weeks.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Signs reading "Cuba, yes — Yankee, no," are beginning to have an old and faded look. Occasionally one sees the slogan scratched out, and in its place is scrawled something like: "Venezuela yes, Castro no."

House Rules Panel Votes To Expand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee by a vote of 6-2 has approved a nine-member increase in its membership designed to break a coalition's grip on legislation.

The Rules Committee decides which bills shall go to the House and in what order. Liberals have complained that their bills are blocked by the committee's Republicans and conservative Democrats.

Voting against the House leadership's plan to boost the membership from 12 to 15 were Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., and Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss.

The six other Democrats voted for the proposal. The only two Republicans assigned to the committee did not vote. Rep. B. Carroll Reece, R-Tenn., is ill and Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, arrived too late for the vote. There are two GOP vacancies.

The resolution to boost the committee membership to 10 Democrats and five Republicans is backed by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and most Northern and Western Democrats. It is opposed heavily by Republicans and most Southern Democrats.

It will be voted on by the House Thursday, with the outcome in doubt.

TANK-KILLER — It's Army's new anti-tank rocket grenade, the XM-72, which can be carried and fired—from its own disposable packing container—by one man. The XM-72 is a blitzkrieg to armored vehicles, earth-filled log emplacements, sand bag fortifications and such like.

has painful contrasts between abundance and poverty. Caracas' modern areas show prospering evidence of what U.S. purchases of Latin America's raw materials can mean. But in many areas thousands of persons live in shacks, and there Castro remains a symbol of defiance toward the rich uncle in the north.

Many a young man in the university and high schools blames everything on the United States, considers Venezuela's oil riches a curse rather than a blessing, believes the oil has meant domination from the north and benefits only the few who prospered under the fallen dictatorship of Perez Jimenez.

The young men are impatient for change. But today, even in the university, Castro and the Communists seem to be losing ground. The Communist party has 35,000 to 50,000 card-carrying members, a large number for a country of 7 million. To a large extent they are disciplined and obey party orders.

Castroism is represented in the extreme leftist MIR—Movimiento de Izquierda Revolucionario or Movement of the Revolutionary Left—a group that broke off from President Romulo Betancourt's Accion Democratica party.

The Communist party's main drive has been toward the labor movement and youth. And in the labor movement President Betancourt, a shrewd politician, outwitted and defeated the Communists.

Paradoxically, Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro helped the anti-Communists and anti-Castroists. When Castro announced the arrest of labor leader David Salvador in Havana, it was evident to many in the Venezuelan Labor Federation that a free labor movement in Cuba had disappeared.

In December the Communists gambled in an attempt against the Betancourt government. They called for a general strike. It failed. Accion Democratica's line hardened. The Betancourt forces became tougher with each defeat of a Communist thrust. During the December violence, a number of MIR and Communist leaders were arrested. The extreme left was caught amid confusion and bickering, and in the rest of the labor movement there remained little doubt that Castroism had lost much of its appeal.

"I never thought I'd see the day," commented a U.S. businessman in Caracas, "when I'd be praying that Romulo Betancourt would remain in the presidency of Venezuela."

The comment reflects a dramatic shift of opinion among North Americans.

New Atlas Missile To Be Developed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force will concentrate on developing a new, more powerful Atlas missile now that it has fired the final test rocket in the present operational "D" series.

The last D ricket thundered 5,000 miles to the South Atlantic Monday, pointing its nose cone "well within two miles of the target," officials announced.

The firing wound up a 20-month test program in which the D Atlas became this nation's largest military missile and space booster. Of 49 shots in the series, 35 were successful.

campaigns in the United States, financed by such enemies of Betancourt as Perez Jimenez and dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, have been attempting to place the brand of Communist on Venezuela's president.

Betancourt once was a Communist, about a quarter century ago, but today he is among the men most hated by the Communist party in Latin America.

At one time Betancourt also was a supporter of Castro's revolution in Cuba, and Castro had other ardent admirers in Venezuela. Today, relations between Cuba and Venezuela are tense.

"In a sense," said one high Betancourt government official, "I suppose we owe Fidel Castro a debt of gratitude. What happened in Cuba centered United States attention on the affairs of Latin America. Castro so far overreached himself and became so ensnared by the Communists that the eyes of others who might have looked upon him as a symbol of a new Latin America era were opened."

Venezuela's own revolution, overthrowing the cruel and wasteful dictatorship of Perez Jimenez, antedated Castro's accession to power by a year. Then free elections elected Betancourt three weeks before Castro took over in Havana.

Today there is a good chance Venezuela will demonstrate that its revolution can accomplish what Cuba's might have done, had it taken a different direction. "What we need, principally," says one of Betancourt's aides, "is understanding from the United States that this is Venezuela and that we cannot attack our problems by North American standards. We must show that we can work out our problems in our own way and that we can do it without being accused of being under Yankee domination. We need help from the United States, but we also need a calm appraisal. We want the United States in short, to be truly a good neighbor and not to identify itself solely with big U.S. industry here in Venezuela."

The eternal problem of Latin America — abject poverty in the midst of visible riches — generates anti-Yankeeism. But little anti-Yankeeism is detected at the government level or in the ranks of Betancourt's Accion Democratica party. There is, on the contrary, much evidence of hope that the United States will make a new approach to Latin America.

Tax Stamp Battle Starts In Legislature

There were two other proposals Tuesday to eliminate the use of stamps or meter impressions in connection with the collection of state excise taxes.

One, sponsored by Rep. A. G. Lancone, D-Belmont, would discontinue the Ohio tax of five cents a pack has been paid.

The other, by Rep. Theodore R. Boring, D-Vinton, proposes to discontinue state tax stamps on bottled beer, wine and mixed beverages.

Another legislative perennial made its appearance Tuesday—a proposal to require semiannual inspection of motor vehicles at a top $1.50 fee. Inspection stations would be licensed by the state and motorists would be required to remedy defects within 20 days. The proposal by Rep. Thomas J. Barrett, D-Mahoning, also would require inspections of all vehicles involved in accidents. If adopted, the law would be effective in July 1962.

Another proposed safety measure would give township trustees authority to regulate the speed of vehicles in areas outside municipalities where they now control parking.

Four Democrats came up with another congressional redistricting bill, one of a series to redistrict the state's population into 24 districts instead of 23 because Ohio became entitled to an additional congressman as a result of the 1960 census. The latest bill would:

- Place Montgomery County alone in the 3rd District; split off Butler and put it in the 4th; shift Allen County to the 5th; place Logan, Union, Ottawa, Sandusky and Seneca counties in the 8th; shift Licking and Perry to the 10th; split Medina from the 14th and place it in the 13th, leaving Summit alone in the 14th; shift Coshocton, Tuscarawas and Holmes to the 15th; Crawford and Morrow to the 17th; split Franklin County into two districts, the 11th and the 12th. The present 11th in the extreme corner of northeastern Ohio would become the 24th District.

Others among the 34 measures introduced Tuesday would:

- Authorize distribution of $80,000 a year from the Ohio Fairs Fund for thoroughbred racing purses.
- Permit Ohio to join with other states and Canadian provinces in a Great Lakes basin compact for development, use and conservation of water resources.
- Refund to rural mail carriers the tax on gasoline they use in delivering the mail.
- Increase the membership of the State Teachers Retirement Board from five to seven members by adding two more teacher members.
- Grant additional funds to a expected increase in attendance which requires at least two additional teachers.
- Permit Sunday hunting on state-controlled property.
- Set a $5 fine for posting bills on utility poles.
- Establish 50 per cent of the true value as the basis for all intangible personal property tax.
- Appropriate $10,000 to improve, as an historical site, the Old Indian Mill in Wyandot County.
- Three House members — Clarence L. Wetzel and J. Warren Bettis, Columbiana County Repub-

The PTO met at the school on Tuesday evening for the January meeting with the President, Robert Conway presiding. Mrs. Floyd Woolever and Mrs. Ralph Smith gave the necessary reports, which was accepted as read.

The society voted on to purchase an electric mixer, plates, etc. needed in the kitchen and cafeteria, with Mrs. Woolever, chairman of the purchasing committee. It was voted on to serve the Lions Club Dinner on March 2nd (Thursday). Committees to be appointed later.

Program followed, announced by Mrs. Wendell Morrison, which included a most interesting talk by Judge William Radcliff (of Williamsport) on "The Making of Wills" and the Liabilities confronting farmers; on different occasions. A question and answer session was included in the talk.

A film on "Wild Life in Ohio" was shown, with much interest taken by the children, that Mr. McDill suggested a reshooting of the films during the school hours on the following day.

Accidental Shotgun Blast Kills Toledoan

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The discharge of a shotgun fired accidentally caught Clayton Chaney, 22, in the chest Tuesday night and killed him. A friend, Dale Hofbauer, 24, of Rossford, told police he had been firing the hammer of the 20-gauge weapon, owned by Chaney, when it discharged.

The two were in Chaney's trailer home in suburban Oregon. Dr. Robert Swindaman, assistant coroner, ruled accidental death.

Day-Long Quarrel Ends With Fatal Shooting

CINCINNATI (AP)—A day-long quarrel ended late Tuesday night with the shotgun death of a Cincinnati moving company operator, police reported.

Killed was Lee Hutchinson, 33, of East Cincinnati. Police said he died instantly from a 16-gauge shotgun blast.

Police arrested Howard Messer, 37, who lived in the same apartment building as Hutchinson, and said two witnesses identified Messer as the shooter. The shooting occurred just outside Hutchinson's home.

And, apparently, an old political hatchet is buried.

Robert Taft Jr., son of the late "Mr. Republican," is one of four joint resolution in honor of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower as president, soldier and world statesman. It was "Mr. Republican" who was defeated by Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952 — and political bitterness lingered for years.

Other sponsors are House Speaker Roger Cloud, Minority Leader James A. Lantz and Rep. Joseph Lady, R-Hardin. The resolution awaits almost sure adoption by the Senate before a copy is forwarded to the former two-term president at Gettysburg, Pa.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those plumbers of history, newsmen with an ear for leaks, have their work cut out for them in the Kennedy administration.

President Kennedy, starting his first full week in the White House, seems to have laid down a policy of hush-mouth.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was noted for not talking much when he worked in the State Department some years ago.

Rusk came away from the White House Monday, after talking with Kennedy, with the news the Kennedy administration wants quiet diplomacy.

Then there were the Democratic congressional leaders who perhaps for the first time had practically nothing to say.

When they came away from talking with Kennedy Tuesday, they may have been mumbling to themselves but they weren't even doing that to reporters.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson confided to reporters a piece of information which didn't send them racing for the telephones. He said the talk with Kennedy involved problems facing the nation.

It seemed only yesterday that President Eisenhower's congressional leaders could hardly wait to leave him before making statements.

This didn't mean they revealed much but, compared with the Democrats Tuesday, they looked like a bunch of chatterboxes.

If this clam-up is going to be Kennedy policy, it means reporters will have to work harder finding people who will leak news to them without being quoted.

Since Kennedy plans on having regular news conferences, perhaps he has decided that, if his administration does any talking, he'll do it.

This may explain the unenlightening explanation by Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, when asked how come the quietude.

"We are not tightening information," Salinger said, "we're trying to coordinate it."

Clinton Water Reservoir Is Nearly Full Again

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The 100 million gallon reservoir of Clinton County Water Co. is nearly full and the firm says it has stopped pumping from auxiliary sources. A spokesman reported Tuesday the company has dismantled its overland pipeline to State Lake Cowan from which it has drawn supplies to offset a critically low water level that developed last month.

By James Marlow

There was a particular reason for hoping Rusk would open up. Over the weekend Soviet Premier Khrushchev had called in the American ambassador in Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., and talked with him for hours.

But Rusk brushed aside would-be questioners with a statement: "The value of the diplomatic channel depends on is privacy." He wouldn't say what Khrushchev had talked about.

2 Billing Machines To Aid Mental Agency

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Contracts were signed Tuesday for two bookkeeping machines to speed up billings to relatives of patients in Ohio's mental institutions. The Mental Hygiene Department has been under criticism recently for tardiness on collections by its Bureau of Support.

The contracts, signed by Director Robert A. Haines of the department with the National Cash Register Co., are for $1,000 for each machine per month for one year. The Finance Department declined to approve outright purchase, pending action by the legislature on bills which may alter the collection arrangement, but the rent on the machines can be applied toward eventual purchase.

LAOS NEVER WILL FORGET 'THE GOOD AMERICAN'—Dr. Tom Dooley, 34, shown talking to a native woman during "sick call" in his hospital in Man Tha, Laos, five miles from the Red Chinese border, is dead of cancer. Doctor Dooley, co-founder of Medico, Inc., which offers medical care for primitive peoples throughout the world, was known as "the good American" to thousands of southeast Asians. He died in a New York City hospital. A bachelor, he is survived by his mother and two brothers.

Prince Philip Bags Tiger in India

JAIPUR, India (AP) — Prince Philip shot an eight-foot male tiger in the jungle near Sawai Madhopur Tuesday.

A British spokesman said the duke fired one shot, hitting the tiger in the head. Queen Elizabeth II was about 25-36 yards away and it was unknown whether she was able to see the kill.

Two tigers were seen in the area where the royal couple hunted unsuccessfully Monday. But Indian beaters were unable to flush one and drive it by the royal hunters' shooting platform.

The queen and her husband hunted in jeeps with the Majaraja of Jaipur, their host on their visit to this area of southwest India.

Crooked Dice Blamed For Burglar's Arrest

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies say crooked dice may be the undoing of Jesse Horton, 27, Cincinnati, charged with burglary of a restaurant with another man. Horton pleaded innocent to the charge Monday night in County Court.

Deputies said Andrew Christian, 43, Cincinnati, was arrested in a car which contained most of the loot and one of a pair of crooked dice. Its companion investigators said, was found in Horton's possession.

Ohio Parole Board Hires Case Analyst

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Pardon and Parole Commission announced today that it has hired a second case analyst.

The new man is Joseph R. Palmer, 29, a native of Columbus who has been working in Kalamazoo, Mich., for the Michigan State Department of Correction. He will begin the $6,900 - a year job March 1.

A month ago, the commission announced the hiring of Leonard Price of Baltimore, Md., as its first analyst. The hirings are an attempt to get more background information—in briefer form—for the more than 700 prisoner interviews conducted by the commission each month at Ohio institutions.

Commissioners also announced today that Charles Vickers, 37, of Columbus, will be paroled from London Correctional Institution about Feb. 23. Vickers was received Feb. 7, 1956, for the fatal stabbing in 1955 of Rice Ingram, 55 in Columbus. He was sentenced for manslaughter.

Authorities said the slaying occurred when Ingram attempted to intervene in a quarrel between Vickers and Mrs. Luvenia Jones. The commission granted 67 paroles at London and continued 51 cases. It also granted 43 paroles at Lebanon Correctional Institution and continued 22.

Self-Mangling Admitted by Texas Slayer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Mickey Covington, 33, a one-handed man admitted today that he is the slayer of Fort Worth druggist J. Homer Morrison, and said that in horror at the deed he later let a freight train run over his right arm.

Covington, who said he was a former mental patient, quoted the Bible to explain his self-mangling: "And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off."

As he murmured the words he looked at the stump of his right arm, off four inches below the elbow.

Covington told two detectives and Star-Telegram reporter Phil Record how he killed Morrison Nov. 17, 1959.

Morrison was shot to death in the rear of his store. His wife was pistol-whipped by the would-be robber who approached them as they sat huddled about a stove watching TV.

"I didn't mean to kill him, I was only doing what I was told to," Covington told detectives Dave Latham and Willie Taylor.

His instructions, Covington claimed, came from two Fort Worth police characters—one of whom is now in prison. The other is widely sought for jumping bond on a burglary charge.

The hoodlums are not charged and there was no immediate confirmation of that part of Covington's story.

He got no money.

Village To Receive Historic Old Bell

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 65-year-old bell which has been gathering dust for 20 years at the Cleveland zoo will be given to the village of Independence.

The bell was installed on the old central viaduct in 1896 after 17 persons were killed when a streetcar plunged off the open turnbridge. It was used to warn when the bridge was open.

The viaduct was torn down for war effort scrap 20 years ago and since then the bell has been in a corner of the basement of the zoo administration building.

Hundreds of requests for the bell poured in after the Cleveland zoo Plain Dealer recently published a story describing its history. They came from churches, schools, camps, museums, lodges, individuals and suburban Independence, which uses the liberty bell as its symbol.

Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower and daughter, Eileen Ann, and Roger Wood of Clarksburg were at the Hartman in Columbus where they saw "Once Upon a Mattress."

Four new members were added to the roll at the meeting of the Ne Plus Ultra Sunday School Class on Tuesday evening when it met in the social room of the church. There were 29 present in all.

The new president, Miss Marcy Harpster, had charge, and Mrs. Printis Spear gave the devotions.

New calendars for the year were distributed and plans were discussed for increasing interest and also adding to the treasury. The membership was divided into two teams with Mrs. Claude Reynolds and Mrs. Pearl Patrick as captains.

Miss Harpster had baked a cake in which was concealed a dime. Slices were sold and Mrs. Barton Whitten found the dime in hers, which means that she will bake the cake for the next meeting.

Two contests were conducted by the social committee, both of which were won by Mrs. Spear.

The committee composed of Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. L. E. Kerns, Mrs. Rufus Kerns, Mrs. Paul Miller, and Mrs. Barton Whitten served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The January meeting of the Isabella Thoburn Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Rounsley.

Mrs. Don Beeman presented the devotions, and also gave a talk on deaconess work, a film, "The Week of Dedication Story" was shown.

The Singles and Doubles organization of the Presbyterian Church held their January meeting Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian McVey. A casserole dinner was enjoyed by the group, followed by a social evening. Several of the members tried out the new organ which Mr. McVey recently purchased.

Present, besides the McVeyes, were Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, Mrs. Frank Haynes, Rev. and Mrs. Dulaney, and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hill.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Asman and daughter, Janina Lee, at Urbana, Ohio were Mr. Asman's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bower and daughter, Eileen, Mr. and Mrs. John Bright and Johnny, of Kingston; and Mr. and Mrs. John Burton and daughter Sue, of Columbus; and Mr. Roger Wood of Clarksburg.

Mrs. Fred Jones and baby son, came home from the Chillicothe Hospital Tuesday, Jan. 23, where Fred Arnold Jr was born last Thursday. His father, Seaman Fred A. Jones, arrived on Friday from Philadelphia for a 20 day stay with his family.

The baby's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne DeLong and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Targee, all of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Davis and children, Jimmie and Kristi spent the weekend in Gallipolis with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fish and daughter Cordelia visited over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, in Jackson.

Scarsdale Club Outlaws Its Discrimination

SCARSDALE, N. Y. (AP) — Leaders of the Scarsdale Golf Club—where a youth was barred from a Christmas dance on the ground that he was Jewish—have announced its members are free to bring any guests they choose.

Charles S. McAllister, president of the club, and the board of governors Monday issued a letter of "clarification for future guidance."

The latter said in part: "It should be clearly understood that any member of this club may use the facilities of the club to entertain guests and friends of his choosing."

The Rev. George Kempshall Jr., rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of St. James the Less, announced recently that he would not welcome to Holy Communion any of his parishioners who had sanctioned the ban on the youth by the club's ball committee. Before being welcome at Communion, the rector said, they would have to work out "their peace with God."

The rejected youth is Michael C. Hernstadt, 20, son of a Jewish father and a Roman Catholic mother. Allowed by his parents to have freedom of religious choice, he became a baptized member of the Episcopal parish two years ago.

Escape Effort Brings New Terms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eight men, all prisoners at Chillicothe federal reformatory, have received additional sentences ranging from nine months to three years for attempting to escape. Six entered pleas of guilty to staging a mass escape.

Sentences were handed down by Judge Carl A. Weinman during federal court day Monday.

Six of the eight attempted to escape Nov. 7 by rushing a section of the north fence of the reformatory. The six, all captured within minutes of their escape, were:

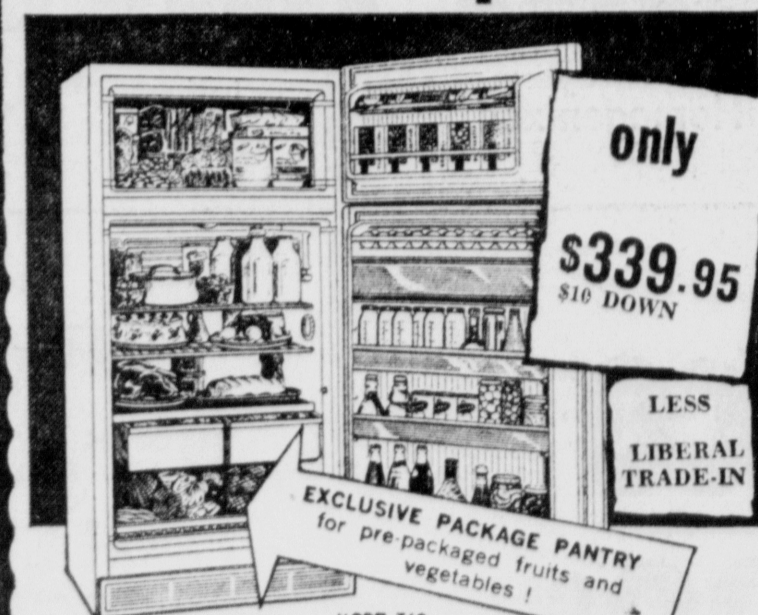

Martin E. Archer, 20, Saten Island, N. Y., received a 3 year additional sentence; William T. Hawks, 20, Nashville, Tenn., nine months; Robert L. Harris, 21, Martins Ferry, nine months; Michael F. Rosetti, 21, Falmouth, Mass., 21 months; Donald C. Secora, 22, Cresson, Pa., 15 months, and Thomas Flynn, 19 Boston, Mass., 15 months.

Stilt Halted, Hawks Trip Warrior '5'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stop Wilt Chamberlain, and there's a good chance that you can beat the Philadelphia Warriors.

The St. Louis Hawks did that Tuesday night — limiting Wilt the Stilt to 16 points — and emerged with a 114-112 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph was the Hawks' 11th straight at home while the loss was the Warriors' sixth in a row on their current road trip.

Elgin Baylor clicked for 56 points — his highest output at home since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles — as the Lakers turned back the Syracuse Nats 116-107. In other games the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 125-112 and the Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals 106-104.

Chamberlain's production was his lowest in regular season play for a full game.

Guarded mainly by Clyde Lovellette and Woody Sauldsberry, Chamberlain collected four of his 16 points in the final moments as the Hawks avoided fouling him.

Bob Pettit's 37 points were high for the Hawks.

Baylor, who set the all-time NBA spring record of 71 points earlier this season against New York, collected 14 points in the final quarter to break open a close game.

Bob Cousy connected for 19 of his 33 points in the third period to spark the Celtics to their success over the Knicks.

Detroit staved off a late Cincinnati rally for the Pistons' sixth consecutive victory over the Royals. Jack Twyman scored 17 of his 37 points in the final period to trigger Cincinnati's futile surge.

Tigers Will Face Strong Hurricane

Circleville's basketball team, haunted in its last three games by last minute defeats, will begin anew Friday with an invasion of the Wilmington Hurricane's spanking new gymnasium.

The hard luck Tigers have lost their last three games by a total of 10 points. Two of the losses were to Franklin Heights, 45-43 and 58-56, and to Greenfield, 62-56.

In all three defeats the Tigers held leads until the final minutes. In the Franklin Heights test here Friday the locals were out front by four points with about a minute to go when the pressure was suddenly applied.

Although the young CHS cagers have taken their lumps, they still show spurts of solid play and plenty of promise. Their most perplexing problems seem to be turnovers and running into trouble in the foul department.

BRUCE Barnes, the only starting senior, has hit for 49 points in his last two games to come into his own as a dangerous threat. Specializing on a deadly jump shot, the CHS cager smacked six buckets in a row at Greenfield and continued his accuracy here Friday with 25 points against Franklin Heights.

Barnes is playing his first year of high school basketball, a fact which makes his current task a more difficult one. But he has fine ability and an uncanny shooting eye when on range. He also has displayed some clever passing his last two games.

Sam Weller, a junior and the only Tiger letterman, is another mainstay. He is the team's leading scorer and a dependable playmaker underneath the basket.

Weller collects many of his points on a jump shot around the key and on tips. He also is a prime rebounder for the Tigers. Jimmie Wellington, a junior, is another cager developing rapidly at his guard post. The last few games have seen him lift the Tigers with his accurate one-handers from far out.

Garold Dade, Luther Johnson, Dick Kline and Clesson Thomas are the other Tigers seeing most of the action. Dade and Thomas are sophomores and Johnson and Kline juniors. All are battling steadily to gain valuable experience.

AT WILMINGTON, the Tigers will run into the SCO's leading team. The veteran Hurricane crew has won seven in a row in loop play and owns a 9-1 overall record.

A top artist for Wilmington is Marv Gregory, a confident performer and dangerous scorer. Jim Kidd is another experienced leader and pointmaker and so is big center Ron Claiborne.

In the opening game of the season here, Wilmington came through with a 62-54 win after beating down a Circleville rally in the last quarter. Gregory connected for 22 points in this tilt and Kidd had 17.

Wilmington's new gym is located near the high school, about one block to the south and to the right.

Rosburg To Face Frisco Bugaboo

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bob Rosburg, winner of Bing Crosby's big golf tournament at Pebble Beach last weekend, hopes to overcome an old bugaboo here in the $57,000 San Francisco International tournament, which starts today.

Rosburg, from nearby Palo Alto, has never been able to do better than 70 at Harding Park, site of the International.

Today's play features the pro-amateur portion of the tournament, with a $7,000 pot for the top professionals. The main 72-hole test begins. Thursday and winds up Sunday. The field of 150 includes invited pros from many parts of the world.

Glouster Ace Dunks 90 Points; Foe Gets 54

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A 5-foot-11 high school basketball ace shattered all Athens County records Tuesday night when he scored 90 points in Glouster's 128-54 win over Chaucer-Dover.

Dwight (Dike) Hatfield, a senior guard who has been averaging 20-some points a game, netted 37 of 52 shots from the floor. He also was credited with 10 assists. Hatfield's score by quarters went: 25-14-17-34.

MacKay Ties Gonzales In Pro Tennis Tour

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton's Barry MacKay moved into a first-place tie with Pancho Gonzales and Andres Gimeno in Jack Kramer's touring professional tennis tournament Tuesday night. The former Davis Cupper, playing before a hometown crowd, downed Gonzales 8-5.

In other matches Alex Olmedo dumped Earl Buchholz 8-3 and Gimeno lost to Lew Hoad 8-6. The three leaders have won six of 11 matches.

Murray Armstrong, former National Hockey League star, coaches the University of Denver ice team.

Harbin (Red) Lawton is in his tenth season as basketball coach at the University of Georgia.

Vikings Given New List of 96 Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings, who will become the National Football League's 14th team this fall, today were studying a list of 96 available veterans, hoping to do better than Dallas in its first league season.

Each league club, with the exception of Dallas which managed only one tie and no victories in its first year, had to make available a list of eight players by noon today. Some were ready Monday night. The Vikings can take three from each club, a total of 36 players for $550,000.

Bert Rose, general manager of the Vikings, had no illusions about what to expect.

"We know we have a rocky road ahead," he said. "Just as Dallas has had so far. But we are prepared for it. I think this is as equitable a solution as could be worked out."

Didn't he want the right to pick from 11 players, as Dallas had last year?

"We wanted all we could get," he said. "We didn't arrive at any specific figure. We do have one advantage over Dallas in the decision of the league to cut its player limit from 38 to 36 men. That should make more available to us in waivers."

Norm Van Brocklin, the Vikings' coach; Joe Thomas, the club's talent scout; and Rose will make the selections. They already are sure of one player, quarterback George Shaw acquired in a trade with New York, and they had first draft choice in 20 rounds last month.

Pete Rozelle, league commissioner, said the Vikings had until noon Thursday to complete their 36-man selection. The Vikings will notify the various clubs who, in turn, will contact the players.

Enigneers Win 'No-Counters'

Hapless Georgia '5' Is in League Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

How can a basketball team play eight games with conference foes, win half of them, and still be in last place in the conference with an 0-4 record?

Coach Whack Hyder of Georgia Tech's hapless Engineers can give you the answer but probably not the explanation. It's those "no-count" games the Techmen have sprinkled among their Southeastern Conference schedule. Of the eight games they've played with SEC foes, the Engineers have won the four that didn't count in the standings. They've dropped all four that did count.

No. 4 on the no-count list came Tuesday night when Tech, triggered again by ace Roger Kaiser, spilled, defending champion Auburn 48-43 in overtime at Auburn, Ala. Previously Tech had beaten another SEC club, Georgia, three times—without getting credit in the league standings. Two were non-SEC games Dec. 1 and Jan. 11, and the other was a clash between the two in the Birmingham Classic during Christmas Week.

There'll be regular league clashes between Tech and Auburn and Tech and Georgia later on, but that's little consolation at the moment for coach Hyder and a band of Engineers who last year challenged for the SEC title right up to the final game.

Massachusetts, converting 29 of 34 free throws, upset Canisius 61-57 in overtime; West Texas State blew a 20-point lead before spilling North Texas State 84-81; and Morehead (Ky.) whipped East Tennessee 106-86 in other games on the slim schedule.

With midterm examinations continuing, activity among the major schools is meager again tonight. Major pairings include LSU at New Orleans Loyola, Mercer at Georgia, Canisius vs. Providence, and Kentucky Wesleyan at Louisville.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Wed. January 25, 1961 11
Circleville, Ohio

Logan Elm, Darby Will Clash Friday

Logan Elm's trip to Darby Friday will take the spotlight in Pickaway County basketball this week.

The league leading Braves, 3-0 in the loop and 9-2 for the season, will meet an improving Trojan five that handed Pickerington a 68-57 loss Saturday night at Darby.

The weekly cage picture finds seven games carded Friday and three Saturday. Other Pickaway County League tests will have Jackson at Ashville and Scioto at Monroe.

Williamsport entertains Laurelville in a sectional duel and Walnut is not scheduled Friday or Saturday. Walnut's Saturday game with Scioto, a non-league test, has been cancelled due to prior commitments.

TWO contests in the Ross County

Etta Julian Leads In Singles, Series

Etta Julian of Scioto Building & Loan had a 178 single and a 485 series to lead the Women's Roundtown Monday Night league at Prairie Lanes.

Pat Dresbach of The Herald finished strong with a 167 single.

Scioto Building & Loan, holding first place in the loop, took team highs with a 711 single and 2,053 for the set.

The standings:

2 Men, Woman Blamed In Small Town Robbery

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—Two men and a woman allegedly took an estimated $500 in cash and checks from a general store in nearby Thurston Tuesday, but the theft wasn't noticed until 15 minutes after the trio left.

Marvin Sparks, operator of the store, told Sheriff Jack Blazer the woman engaged his wife, alone in the store at the time, in conversation while the men apparently looted the cash register and a pouch.

Trader Lane at It Again, Makes 5-Man Deal with Birds

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics a shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Pilarcik, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causy.

In addition, Lane said, the A's will option an unnamed player to the Orioles' farm club at Rochester in the Class AAA International League.

"This is the type of deal we needed to make in order to start spring training respectably," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causy, 24, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causy spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 154 times at bat last season as second string to Gus Triandos.

Of the other three obtained by the A's, Pilarcik, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .247 in 194 trips last season.

Lee MacPhail, president-general manager of the Orioles, said his main problem has been the outfield "and we acquired two fairly young outfielders who could help our ball club. I had both of them in the Yankee chain and have a great deal of respect for their ability and desire to play."

Snyder, 26, is one of the fastest runners in the league. He hit .313 in 1959 but fell off to .260 last year. Herzog, 29, was benched by an operation for a leg injury last Aug. 17, but his physician has said the operation was a success. Despite intense pain he batted .266.

Solon's Son Heads Food-Peace Effort

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Tuesday announced he will appoint James Wadsworth Symington, son of Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., as deputy director of the food for peace program.

Symington, a St. Louis lawyer, who has been special assistant to the United States ambassador in London the past two years, was invited to attend a White House meeting of the president's special food-for-peace task force Tuesday afternoon.

The task force is headed by Murray D. Lincoln, president of Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co., Columbus, Ohio, and other insurance firms. Lincoln is president of CARE and is a leader in the co-operative movement.

HOO HE?—Well, you might not be able to recognize him, but he's actor Burt Lancaster, head shaved for a forthcoming film role. He's shown in New York on receiving the New York Film Critics "Best Actor" award for his performance in "Elmer Gantry."

Holcomb Plans To Stay at Northwestern

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—With Northwestern's Stu Holcomb out of the picture, Indiana University officials today resumed their hunt for a new athletic director to succeed retiring Frank Allen.

The Northwestern athletic director, former head football coach at Purdue, conferred twice with Northwestern president J. Roscoe Miller Tuesday and then announced he would stay at his present post.

There was speculation Holcomb might have been offered something less than a free hand when he visited the I.U. campus Monday. There also was a certain coolness among alumni who dislike anything connected with Purdue.

"Mr. Holcomb is one of several we have been considering and have interviewed," Allen said. "All are outstanding men."

Names mentioned in "public speculation" included two former Indiana football stars, Jim Trimble and Don Veller, along with Ernie McCoy, Penn State athletic director, and Ray Elliot, assistant athletic director at Illinois.

Also known to be on the Indiana list of prospects is William H. (Tippy) Dye, athletic director at the University of Wichita and a former Ohio State athlete and basketball coach.

Cincinnati Firm Sees Slower Rate of Growth

CINCINNATI (AP)—Roger Drackett, president of the Drackett Corp., has warned stockholders that "a slower rate of growth than we have been experiencing is likely unless we are able to make some major acquisition." Officials of Drackett, which makes Windex and Drano, also reported at Tuesday's annual meeting that sales in the quarter ended Dec. 31 were $7,363,000 compared to $7,485,000 in a similar period of 1959.
